

De Gruyter Handbooks in Business, Economics and Finance

De Gruyter Handbook of Personal Finance

Edited by: John E. Grable and Swarn Chatterjee

De Gruyter Handbook of Entrepreneurial Finance

Edited by: David Lingelbach

De Gruyter Handbook of Organizational Conflict Management

Edited by: LaVena Wilkin and Yashwant Pathak

De Gruyter Handbook of Sustainable Development and Finance

Edited by: Timothy Cadman and Tapan Sarker

De Gruyter Handbook of Responsible Project Management

Edited by: Beverly L. Pasian and Nigel Williams

For more information, scan QR code below or visit <https://www.degruyter.com/serial/dghbef-b/html>

De Gruyter Handbook of Business Families

Edited by
Michael Carney and Marleen Dieleman

DE GRUYTER

ISBN 978-3-11-072781-4
e-ISBN (PDF) 978-3-11-072796-8
e-ISBN (EPUB) 978-3-11-072805-7
ISSN 2748-016X
e-ISSN 2748-0178

Library of Congress Control Number: 2022945191

Bibliographic information published by the Deutsche Nationalbibliothek

The Deutsche Nationalbibliothek lists this publication in the Deutsche Nationalbibliografie; detailed bibliographic data are available on the internet at <http://dnb.dnb.de>.

© 2023 Walter de Gruyter GmbH, Berlin/Boston
Typesetting: Integra Software Services Pvt. Ltd.
Printing and binding: CPI books GmbH, Leck

www.degruyter.com

Contents

List of Contributors — IX

Michael Carney and Marleen Dieleman

1 Business Families: An Introduction — 1

Part I: Business Families as the Family Behind the Firm

Jian Bai Li and Henning Piezunka

2 Family Businesses as Multiplex Relationships — 31

Heiko Kleve, Lina Nagel, Tom Rüsen, and Arist von Schlippe

3 Family, Organization, and Network: A New Approach to a Systems Theory of the Business Family — 49

Sabine B. Rau

4 Resilient Enterprising Families — 69

Tommaso Minola, Dinah Spitzley, Giovanna Campopiano, and Mara Brumana

5 Enterprising Families: An Embeddedness Perspective on Offspring's Entrepreneurial Career Preferences, Cognitions, and Actions — 81

Juliette Koning and Michiel Verver

6 Kinship and Family Businesses on the Move: A Review and a Research Agenda — 115

Part II: Business Families with Multiple Businesses

Navneet Bhatnagar and Kavil Ramachandran

7 Influence of Next-Generation Family Champions on New Venture Creation by Business Families: An Indian Perspective — 135

Nava Michael-Tsabari

8 “All My Firms?” Managing SEW Affective Endowments in Business Family Portfolios — 163

Sophie Bacq and Robert S. Nason

- 9 Business Family Reputation, Internal Markets, and Holdup Agency Costs — 187

Ramzi Fathallah and Georges Samara

- 10 The Transformative Function of Weak Institutional Environments: The Case of Business Families in the Arab Middle East — 201

Peter Rosa and Zografia Bika

- 11 Evolutionary Long-Term Entrepreneurial Processes in Business Families — 223

Andrea Colli

- 12 Entrepreneurial Multi-Business Families – Evidence from Continental Europe — 247

Part III: Governing the Business Family

Rania Labaki and Neus Feliu

- 13 Introducing “Top Governance Teams”: Towards an Extension of the Family Business Cluster Model — 275

Carole Howorth, Martin R. Kemp, and Timothy J. Nichol

- 14 Codes of Governance for Family Businesses — 309

Myung-Seon Song

- 15 Family Office Research: A Primer — 329

Nadine Kammerlander and Alexandra Bertschi-Michel

- 16 Family Wealth Governance and the Role of Advisors — 349

Toshio Goto

- 17 How Can a Family Control its Business Without Ownership Influence? A Case Study of Suzuki Corp — 369

Yasaman Gorji and Nastaran Simarasl

- 18 How Business Families Advance Their Members’ Careers: The Case of Show Business Families — 397

Part IV: Institutionalization of Wealth and Business Families in Society

Hanna Kuusela

19 Institutionalizing Family Legacy, Reproducing Dynasties — 413

Michael Carney and Robert S. Nason

20 The Varieties of Business Families: A Capitalist Class Perspective on Business Family Diversity — 437

Elena Rivo-López and Mónica Villanueva-Villar

21 Philanthropy Through Family Offices — 465

Roy Suddaby, Peter Jaskiewicz, Trevor Israelsen, and Ravee Chittoor

22 Traditional Authority in Social Context: Explaining the Relation between Types of Family and Types of Family-Controlled Business Groups — 487

Allan Discua Cruz and Leonardo Centeno-Caffarena

23 Migrant Business Families in Central America — 519

Rodrigo Basco and Arpita Vyas

24 Succession Process and the Model of Change in a Transgenerational Family Business — 541

Part V: The Future of Business Families Research

Michael Carney and Marleen Dieleman

25 Business Families: Promising Future Research Directions — 563

List of Figures — 577

List of Tables — 579

Index — 581

List of Contributors

Sophie Bacq is the Larry and Barbara Sharpf Associate Professor of Entrepreneurship at Indiana University Kelley School of Business. Her research program centres on entrepreneurial action aiming to solve intractable social and environmental problems. More specifically, Sophie examines and theorizes about social entrepreneurship and societal impact at the individual, organizational, and civic levels of analysis.

Rodrigo Basco is a Professor at American University of Sharjah and holds the Sheikh Saoud bin Khalid bin Al-Qassimi Chair in Family Business. He is the Board Chairman of STEP Project Global Consortium and Associate Editor of the Journal of Family Business Strategy. His research focuses on entrepreneurship, management, and regional development with special interest in family firms.

Navneet Bhatnagar is Assistant Professor of Strategic Management at the Indian Institute of Management Raipur, India. Earlier, he was Associate Director at the Thomas Schmidheiny Centre for Family Enterprise, Indian School of Business, Hyderabad, India. He has authored several research articles on family business, published in top journals including the Journal of Business Ethics, among others. He has also authored several monographs and case studies on family businesses. Navneet holds a PhD from IIT Madras and the Advanced Certificate in Family Business Advising awarded by the Family Firm Institute, Boston.

Alexandra Bertschi-Michel, PhD, is a post-doctoral researcher at the University of Bern, Switzerland. She received her PhD in philosophy of management at the Centre for family business, University of St. Gallen, Switzerland. Her research interests focus on advisors in family firms, family firm succession, private equity in family firms, and turnaround management in family firms and her articles have been published, amongst others, in Entrepreneurship Theory & Practice, Family Business Review, Long Range Planning, and Small Business Economics. Besides her academic career, Alexandra Bertschi-Michel is also active as a family firm advisor in succession related matters.

Zografia Bika is a Professor of Entrepreneurship at the University of East Anglia (UEA), Norwich Business School, UK. Her research focuses on rural, family, and institutional entrepreneurship issues using a sociological lens, and has been published in journals such as Family Business Review, Regional Studies, Entrepreneurship and Regional Development, European Management Review, Sociological Review, Environment and Planning A, and Human Relations. Her family business research was funded by the UK Economic and Social Research Council and won the “Best Family Business Paper” Award at the 2018 US Academy of Management Annual Meeting and the 2020 US Family Firm Institute “Best Unpublished Research Paper” Award.

Mara Brumana is an Assistant Professor at the Department of Management, Information, and Production Engineering, University of Bergamo, Italy, and Affiliated Researcher at the Institute of Change Management and Management Development at WU Vienna University of Economics and Business. She is also a research member of the Research Centre for Young and Family Enterprise (CYFE) at the University of Bergamo. Mara’s research interests revolve around the understanding of how and why the embeddedness of firms, and of family firms in particular, in a social and institutional context shapes their decision-making process and behaviour.

Giovanna Campopiano is Associate Professor of Strategic Management and Entrepreneurship, in the Department of Management, Information, and Production Engineering at the University of Bergamo. She is board member of the CYFE, university-based Centre for Young and Family Enterprise. Giovanna’s research mainly focuses on the strategic and behavioural aspects of family business governance and management, and their effect on succession, growth, and corporate entrepreneurship, as well as gender and corporate social responsibility.

Michael Carney is the Concordia University Research Chair in Strategy and Entrepreneurship at the John Molson School of Business, Montréal. His research interests are comparative institutional analysis, emerging market business groups, and family firms. He is the former editor-in-chief of the Asia Pacific Journal of Management.

Leonardo Centeno-Caffarena, PhD, is the Executive Director (ai) of CEPRODEF (Centre for the Development of the Family Business) and an Associate Professor from Keiser University. His research focuses on institutions, family firms, and entrepreneurship.

Ravee Chittoor is Associate Professor of Strategy and International Business at the Peter B. Gustavson School of Business, University of Victoria. His research focuses on understanding the various ways by which institutions shape firm strategies.

Andrea Colli is Professor at Bocconi University. He holds a PhD in Economic and Social History. His research focuses on family capitalism in the long run and on the relationship between the governance structures, the strategies, and organization of family business groups.

Marleen Dieleman is an Associate Professor at the National University of Singapore. She holds a PhD from Leiden University in the Netherlands. Her research focuses on family business groups from Asia. She has published in numerous academic journals and her work has been covered in international media.

Allan Discua Cruz, PhD, is the Director of the Centre for Family Business at Lancaster University Management School, UK. His research focus relates to stewardship, paradox, and relational lenses. His work has appeared in Entrepreneurship Theory and Practice, Journal of Business Ethics, Journal of Business Research, Business History, Journal of Family Business Strategy, International Journal of Entrepreneurship and Behaviour Research, Entrepreneurship and Regional Development, and the International Small Business Journal.

Ramzi Fathallah is an Assistant Professor of Entrepreneurship and Family Business at Telfer School of Management, University of Ottawa. He holds a master's degree in management from LSE and a PhD in Entrepreneurship from Ivey Business School. His research lies at the intersections of entrepreneurship, family business, and international business. He is also a fourth-generation member of a 100-year-old family business.

Neus Feliu, PhD, is a partner at Lansberg Gersick & Advisors. An economist and organizational psychologist by training, Neus holds a PhD from ESADE Business School. Her research and consultative work focus on the ownership dimension of family enterprises, which encompasses ownership strategies and its governance.

Yasaman Gorji is an associate Professor in Strategic Management, International Business and Entrepreneurship at ESSCA School of Management, France. Her areas of research include network theory, business families, entrepreneurship, and gender studies.

Toshio Goto is a Research Professor at Japan University of Economics in Tokyo. He holds an MBA from Harvard Business School, and a bachelor's degree from The University of Tokyo (Economics). His research is focused on the sustainable growth of the family business.

Carole Howorth is Emeritus Professor at the University of York. She was previously Chair of Sustainable and Ethical Entrepreneurship at York and has also held Chairs at the University of Bradford and Lancaster University Management School. Carole researches contexts and topics where social values and business imperatives intersect, particularly family businesses and social enterprises.

Trevor Israelsen is a PhD candidate at the Gustavson School of Business at the University of Victoria. His research focuses on the historical processes through which entrepreneurial projects emerge, evolve, and are institutionalized across generations in business and society.

Peter Jaskiewicz is the University Research Chair in Enduring Entrepreneurship and the Academic Director of the Family Enterprise Legacy Institute (www.familyenterpriseinstitute.ca) at the Telfer School of Management, University of Ottawa. His research focuses on how families can effectively govern their enterprises, and how their enterprises can be successfully rejuvenated and transitioned for generations to come.

Nadine Kammerlander is a chaired professor at WHU – Otto Beisheim School of Management where she is also director of the Institute of Family Business and Mittelstand. Her research interests focus on leadership, governance, and innovation in family firms and family offices. Her research has been published in numerous academic journals and books.

Martin R. Kemp is Head of Research at the IFB Research Foundation in the UK. He holds a PhD from the University of Bristol, and master's degrees from Manchester University and the University of Surrey. His research interests are in sustainable development, health, and social policy; the role of business in society and the social impact of business.

Heiko Kleve, Sociologist and Social Scientist, is professor of the endowed chair of the “Witten Institute for Family Business” (WIFU) for Organization and Development of Business Families, Faculty of Management, Economics, and Society, Witten/Herdecke University, Germany. Since 2020 he is also the Academic Director of the WIFU. His research areas are systems theory of the business family, socialization in business families, family strategy, systemic and post-modern theories, and methods in applied social sciences.

Juliette Koning is Professor of Business in Society at the School of Business and Economics at Maastricht University, the Netherlands. Trained as an anthropologist she investigates religion, ethnicity, kinship, identity, and ethics in organizational leadership and entrepreneurship. Juliette is Associate Editor of Human Relations.

Hanna Kuusela is an Academy Research Fellow and a Senior Researcher at Tampere University. She holds a PhD from Goldsmiths College. She works in the intersection of culture and economy, focusing her research on economic elites and on the role of culture in understanding economic phenomena.

Rania Labaki, PhD, is Associate Professor of finance and family business at EDHEC Business School, Director of EDHEC Family Business Research Centre, and Family Business Fellow at Cornell University. She is also Board Member of IFERA, Editor of Entrepreneurship Research Journal, and Affiliate Advisor at LGA. Her main interests revolve around the interplay between family dynamics, decision-making, and governance design in the family business.

Jian Bai Li is an Assistant Professor at National University of Singapore Business School. He holds a PhD from Stanford University. His research focuses on social networks and organizations, with a particular emphasis on family businesses in emerging economies.

Nava Michael-Tsabari is the Founder and Director of the Raya Strauss Centre for Family Firm Research at Collier School of Management, Tel Aviv University. She holds the first PhD on family firms in Israel, from the Technion. Her research focuses on emotions, organizational behaviour, and how the owning family influences the business.

Tommaso Minola is Associate Professor at the Department of Management, Information and Production Engineering (DIGIP), and Co-founder and Director of the Centre for Young and Family Enterprise (CYFE) at the University of Bergamo. In his research, he is interested in studying how different dimensions of the enterprising individual (e.g., motivation, cognition, behaviour) and of the entrepreneurial firm (e.g., goals and resource allocation) are affected by embeddedness in social contexts. In particular, he looks at the family and the university as contexts particularly relevant for venture creation, development, and performance.

Lina Nagel is a PhD candidate and scientific associate at the WIFU chair for Organization and Development of Business Families (Witten/Herdecke University). Her research is focused on conflict dynamics and communication patterns of business families, cybernetic theory, systemic thinking, conflict prevention and resolution. She is a conflict trainer and mediator.

Robert Nason is Associate Professor of Strategy and Organization and William Dawson Scholar in the Desautels Faculty of Management at McGill University. Rob's research explores the role of entrepreneurship in society and is currently focused on entrepreneurship and economic inequality – examining entrepreneurial activity in contexts of poverty and wealth.

Timothy J. Nichol is a Pro Vice Chancellor at Liverpool John Moores University in the UK. He holds a PhD from the University of York and a master's degree from Oxford University. His research is focused on the relationship between governance and power in multi-generation family-owned businesses.

Henning Piezunka is an Associate Professor at INSEAD. He holds a PhD from Stanford University, a master's degree from the London School for Economics, as well as from the University of Mannheim. His research is focused on how organizations and people can collaborate and compete more effectively.

Kavil Ramachandran is Professor of Entrepreneurship and Senior Advisor of the Thomas Schmidheiny Centre for Family Enterprise at the Indian School of Business. He earned his PhD from the Cranfield University, UK, and has specialized in family business, strategy, and entrepreneurship.

Sabine B. Rau works with enterprising families around the world supporting them to design their tailored governance structures and processes, moderating succession, and developing and delivering tailored Next Generation development programs. She holds a PhD from the University of Bayreuth, Germany, and is Visiting Professor at Telfer Business School, University of Ottawa, Canada, as well as at ESMT Berlin, Germany.

Elena Rivo-López, PhD in Economics and Business Management, MBA from ICADE, is an Associate Professor at the University of Vigo. Her research is focused on family businesses from multiple perspectives: value creation, corporate governance, corporate social responsibility, entrepreneurship, and family office.

Peter Rosa is the George David Emeritus Professor of Entrepreneurship and Family Business at the University of Edinburgh Business School UEBS, and is a Visiting Professor at the Makerere University Business School in Uganda. He was the Head of the Entrepreneurship and Innovation Group and Directed their Centre for Entrepreneurship and Innovation at UEBS from 2004–2015. He has a special interest in processes of portfolio entrepreneurship and the dynamics of family business groups.

Tom A. Rüsen is the Managing Director and Honorary Professor of the WIFU (Witten/Herdecke University). His teaching, research, and consulting activities focus on the installation of family management systems and family strategy processes as well as succession and conflict counseling. The main areas of his research include the examination of conflict and crisis dynamics, structural risks in family businesses, mental models in business families, and family strategies.

Georges Samara is the winner of the Extraordinary Doctorate Award (2018), the Academy of Management Best Family Business Paper Award (2019), and the Best Published Paper Award by the International Association of Business and Society (2020), in addition to more than 10 international best research paper nominations and awards. Georges is currently an Assistant Professor at the University of Sharjah. He also acts as a family business consultant and has participated in setting up programs and delivering many executive education courses for family businesses.

Arist von Schlippe, psychologist and systemic counselor, is Chair of Leadership and Dynamics in Family Business at the WIFU (Witten/Herdecke University). He graduated with a PhD in psychology specializing in family therapy and family psychology. His research topics are family strategy and family governance, succession, role of stories, and value transmission in business families, transgenerational entrepreneurship, negotiation, and conflict resolution, as well as parental coaching in non-violent resistance.

Nastaran Simarasl is an Associate Professor of Strategic Management and Entrepreneurship at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona. She holds a PhD in Entrepreneurship and Strategic Management from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, and a PhD in Organizational Behaviour from the University of Isfahan. Her research focuses on the intersection of institutions, entrepreneurship, and gender. Her papers have been published in academic journals, including Family Business Review and Strategic Entrepreneurship Journal.

Myung-Seon Song is a PhD candidate in National University of Singapore Business School. Her research interests focus on family office, entrepreneurial finance, and merger and acquisition. She earned her BA and MS from Ewha Women University and received her MA in Business Strategy from Rice University.

Dinah Spitzley is a post-doctoral student at the Friedrichshafen Institute for Family Entrepreneurship (FIF) at Zeppelin University, Germany, as well as affiliated Researcher at the EQUA-Foundation in Munich, Germany. Furthermore, she has founded her own start-up at the intersection of research and practice, which is a digital exchange and information platform for the next generation in enterprising families. Her research interests focus on the next generation within enterprising families especially looking at the family aspect. In particular, she looks at strategic decisions of the next generation within the family business as well as looking at venturing activities of the next generation.

Roy Suddaby is the Winspear Professor of Management at the Peter B. Gustavson School of Business, University of Victoria, and Professor of Entrepreneurship at the Carson College of Business, Washington State University. His research focuses on processes of organizational, institutional, and societal change.

Michiel Verver is an Assistant Professor at the Department of Organization Sciences, VU Amsterdam. His academic interest lies in employing anthropological concepts – kinship, ethnicity, patronage, culture, and context – to study entrepreneurship. Michiel focuses on entrepreneurship among business families, migrants, and ethnic minorities, and social entrepreneurship in Cambodia, Thailand and the Netherlands.

Mónica Villanueva-Villar, PhD in Economics and Business Management, is an Associate Professor at the University of Vigo. Her research is focused on family businesses from a financial perspective.

Arpita Vyas is a Research Assistant at the Sheikh Saoud bin Khalid bin Khalid Al-Qassimi Chair in Family Business and the Project Manager at STEP Project Global Consortium. She has recently graduated from the American University of Sharjah with a BS in Business Administration, specializing in Accounting.