

Public and Private Law and the Challenges of New Technologies and Digital Markets.
Volume I. Regulatory Challenges

Dowiedz się więcej na www.ksiegarnia.beck.pl

Table of Contents

Introduction	XI
Acknowledgements	XV
About the Authors	XVII

Part 1. Public Administration and New Technologies

The Impact of Regulatory Techniques on the Development of the Digital Single Market in the European Union: Selected Issues (Beata Pachuca-Smulska)	3
1. Introduction	3
2. From the single market to the digital market to e-administration	5
3. Selection of a regulatory technique for the Digital Single Market	7
3.1. Regulations	7
3.2. Directives	11
4. Regulatory techniques towards a single digital market	14
5. Conclusion	16

The Italian Path to an Open and Digital Administration (Elena di Carpegna Brivio)	21
1. Introduction	21
2. Italian legislation and digital administration: The original approach	23
3. The clear prevalence of anticorruption purposes in the recent developments	24
4. Conclusions	28

Electronic Document in the General Administrative Proceedings in Poland (Agnieszka Skóra, Paweł Kardasz)	33
1. Introduction	33
2. The meaning of administrative proceedings in Poland	34
3. The notion of document in administration proceedings	36
4. The form of a document	38
5. Document and electronic document in the administrative proceedings	41
6. Conclusions	45

Table of Contents

Communication via E-mail in the Polish Administrative Procedure (Agnieszka Korzeniowska-Polak)	49
1. Introduction	49
2. The concept of “administrative proceedings” and types of administrative proceedings	50
3. Principle of limited formalism	51
4. Ways of submitting applications in adjudicating administrative proceedings	52
5. Proceedings related to complaints, proposals and petitions	55
6. Subjective scope of proceedings related to complaints and proposals	56
7. Electronic mail in complaint and proposal procedures	59
8. Conclusions	62
Electronic Auctions in Polish Public Procurement System (Maciej Bendorf-Bundorf)	65
1. Introduction	66
2. Legal framework for public procurement in Europe and Poland	67
3. The general concept of electronic auction	68
4. Legal terms of conducting the auction	70
4.1. The subject-matter of contact award procedure	70
4.2. Commencing the electronic auction	71
4.3. Bidding process and closing of the auction	72
5. Statistical data analysis	73
6. Reasons for the low interest in electronic auctions	75
7. Conclusions	76
The Register of Entrepreneurs (Subdivision of the National Court Register): A Digital Entrepreneur Information Platform (Paweł Lewandowski)	81
1. Introduction	81
2. Public nature of the register of entrepreneurs	83
3. Public nature and digitalisation of the register	84
3.1. EU law	84
3.2. Digitalisation of the register in Poland	89
3.2.1. Electronic form of financial statements	89
3.2.2. Personal signature	92
3.2.3. Simplifications of the registration procedure	92
3.2.4. Digitalisation of registration files	95
4. Conclusions	95

Table of Contents

The Computerization of the Italian Tax Authority: Data Processing and Administrative Simplification (Emanuele Comi)	101
1. Collecting data	101
2. Digitalization of the “anagrafe tributaria”	104
3. The creation of a digital panopticon and its aims	105
Part 2. Digital Platforms in the Digital Market
Regulating or Not Regulating Digital Platforms? (Laura Ammannati)	111
1. Introduction	111
2. Regulation and competition facing technology	113
2.1. New business and new services	115
2.2. What rules?	117
3. Platforms, Big Data and algorithms	120
4. Conclusions	124
Power Beyond the Public-Private Divide on Digital Platforms After laissez-faire, Time for Organised Checks and Balances? (Enguerrand Marique, Yseult Marique)	129
1. Introduction	130
2. The traditional public-private divide: Little space for intermediary groupings	131
3. Digital platforms between public forums and private market places ...	135
4. Addressing platform regulation: between public and private tools	141
5. Finding checks and balances for platform governments	144
6. Conclusions	147
Markets Waiting for the Market Platforms: The System’s Resistance to Protecting the General Interest (Valentina Giomi)	153
1. Introduction	153
2. Taxi and rental service with driver: Different rules for a single legal regime	155
3. The (legitimate) closure of the market and the protection of social demands for the service	158
4. The very tentative pro-competitive openings in the non-scheduled transport sector	160
5. Technology, service development, and regulatory rigidity	162
6. Conclusion	167

Table of Contents

Platforms as Custodians and Guarantors of the Rights in the Prism of Digital Labor Law (Elena Signorini)	171
1. Introduction	172
2. The impact of digitalization: New social prerogatives for the protection of digital workers between the need for control and a new trust	172
2.1. Definition and main features: Circular economy, work and sharing economy	173
2.2. Open issues: From qualifications to protection	174
3. Platforms as guarantors of workers' rights	176
3.1. Side effects and protection requirements in the digital environment	179
4. Conclusions	180
Workers' Protection in the Platform Economy (Gina Rosamari Simoncini) ...	183
1. Introduction	184
2. The phenomenon of digital platforms	185
3. The repercussions of platform-based work	188
4. Blockchain Technology at the service of labor law	191
5. Considerations	193
Part 3. Protection of Personal Data
Some Remarks on the Definition of Profiling in the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) 2016/679 (Katarzyna Krupa-Lipińska)	199
1. Introduction	200
2. The definition of profiling in the GDPR	203
3. Some remarks on the definition of profiling in the GDPR	205
3.1. Profiling is carried out on personal data within the meaning of the GDPR	205
3.2. Profiling in the GDPR is a form of processing of personal data that is restricted to automated processing	205
3.3. Profiling is purpose-oriented, i.e. it must be carried out to evaluate personal aspects of an individual	207
4. Profiling is subject to the general provisions of the GDPR relating to automated processing and to specific regulation concerning solely automated decision-making	208
5. Conclusions	209

Table of Contents

Protection of Personal Data: Challenges Regarding the Third Generation of Administrative Proceedings? (Agata Cebera, Jakub Grzegorz Firlus)	215
1. Introduction	216
1.1. Generations of administrative procedures	216
1.2. The GDPR and FOI in administrative praxis: A short introduction	218
1.3. Hypotheses	219
2. New regulations under Polish law regarding personal data protection in administrative proceedings	220
3. What about the third generation? Remarks on the interrelation between the wide participation (collaboration) in proceedings of various actors and the personal data of natural persons	225
4. Conclusions	226
Interplay between Data Protection and Consumer Law: Consumer Problems in the Data-Driven Market within Poland and the EU (Katarzyna Araczevska)	231
1. Introduction	231
2. Usage and sources of data	232
2.1. Data as part of an (improved) service	232
2.2. Data as asset	233
3. Practical intersections	234
4. Legal interplay	237
4.1. Common principles	237
4.2. More uniform approach	240
4.3. Advantages of consumer protection	241
5. Conclusions for data protection and consumer protection authorities.....	243
Workplace Technology: The Protection of Employees' Privacy in the Light of the General Data Protection Regulation (Kamila Naumowicz)	247
1. Introduction	247
2. Legal framework of personal data processing according to the GDPR	249
2.1. Direct effect of the regulation	249
2.2. Revision of Polish regulations on personal data protection	250
2.3. Lawful processing of personal data in the GDPR	250
3. Protection of personal data in the context of employment	254
3.1. Right to implement national provisions by Member States	254

Table of Contents

3.2. Impact of the GDPR on Polish labour law regarding the protection of employees' privacy in context of employment ...	255
3.3. Risks to workers' privacy connected to data processing at work ...	257
4. Conclusions	260
Digitization of Cultural Heritage in Light of Copyright Law (Ewa Lewandowska)	263
1. Introduction	263
2. Cultural heritage	265
3. Legal assessment of the digitization of the work	267
3.1. Digitalization as a technical activity	267
3.2. Digitalization as a field of exploitation	268
3.3. Legal conditions for digitalization	269
4. Digitization of cultural heritage	270
4.1. Allowed public use	271
4.1.1. Multiplication	271
4.1.2. Sharing	273
4.2. Agreement basis	274
5. Conclusions	275
New Forms of Crimes Connected with Cyberspace in Poland: Legal and Criminological Perspective (Joanna Narodowska, Maciej Duda)	279
1. Introduction	279
2. What is cybercrime	282
3. Current research on digital pathologies conducted by the Olsztyn School of Ecocriminology (OSE)	283
4. New forms of cybercrimes	284
5. Conclusions	289
The Evolution of the EU Cybersecurity Model: Current State and Future Prospects (Marcin Rojszczak)	295
1. Introduction	295
2. Legal framework	298
3. Institutional model	301
4. Cyberspace protection in light of sector regulations	304
5. Limitations and problems to solve	306
6. Conclusion	309

Przejdź do księgarni →

ksiegarnia.beck.pl